Welcome to Inverness

THE HEART OF THE HIGHLANDS...

Inverness, in the North of Scotland, is one of the fastest growing cities in Europe and just three hours by car from the major cities of Glasgow and Edinburgh, with excellent road, rail and air transport links. Served by Inverness Airport, the Highland capital enjoys not only daily domestic flights to both London's Heathrow and Gatwick airports, as well as many other major UK cities and the Scottish Islands, but also to the international hubs of Schiphol Amsterdam and Dublin.

The Highland Capital, is a compact, cosmopolitan city with a lot of heart and very much retains a market town feel, dating back to its early development. Today tourism, and business tourism is a very important part of the economy.

A trip to Inverness has a lot to offer the business traveller: a flourishing culinary scene; retail therapy in a thriving city centre; a bit of culture in its theatre or art galleries; historical treasures at the Clava Cairns or Culloden Battlefield; as well as the natural splendours such as Loch Ness, the Ness Islands; and much more...
